

Business Analyst / Modeller (80-100%)

Who we are

NOUMENA Digital AG is a rapidly growing innovative Swiss-based Technology Company.

We build enterprise products and solutions across a variety of industries with our own smart contract language on our cutting-edge technology. Our success is built on process-oriented distributed technology, a focused vision and strategy, an international team of business and technology experts, a cross-industry customer base and a strong external partner network.

Culture

We value people that are excited about developing innovative solutions. Our team members are comfortable in the fast-changing world of start-ups. They are creative, like to figure things out together and are eager to move things forward.

Role

We are looking for business analysts with interdisciplinary skills in business modelling and solution architecture to strengthen our team. In this role you will:

- Challenge existing business processes and jointly design new processes with our clients
- Contribute to shape innovative client solutions and the future of our products, by defining their architecture and features.
- Gather, elicit, model and document business requirements
- Implement and verify business logic with our domain specific language
- Manage client priorities and steer product development
- Closely interact with IT experts and business representatives
- Feed requirements back into the development of our core platform

Qualifications

- A university degree or equivalent in Sciences, Business Administration or related fields
- Working experience with at least one programming language (experience in professional software development is beneficial)
- Motivation to leverage the Noumena technology to model and implement business logic with unprecedented speed
- Affinity with smart contracts (beneficial)

We Offer

- A competitive compensation package
- Work in an agile team with highly experienced Software Engineers, DevOps, Business Analysts and Product Managers
- Exposure to multiple industries (finance, energy, automotive industry, ...)

Other Requirements

A Swiss or EU/EFTA passport or a valid Swiss work permit type B or C

Please send applications and questions to careers@noumenadigital.com